Breaking barriers in sport

Our Breaking Barriers in Sport panel will feature some exceptional women from on and off the field and court. Rosie King OAM and Katie Rowe join TV and radio commentator and former Australian cricketer, Melanie Jones.
Melanie, Rosie and Katie will discuss the importance of sport in community and the journey towards sporting inclusion at both the elite and local level.

Rosie King OAM is a Geelong Cats Advisor and former CEO of Netball Victoria.

Katie Rowe is an Associate Professor Sports Management and Basketball Victoria Board Director.

Step up your career

Stacey Daniel, Founder of Board Presence, joins our amazing cast of workshop facilitators.
Stacey's sessions will cover all things Board careers and CVs as well as exploring tips on career planning, personal branding and profiles for local government professionals.
Her sessions are designed with a diverse range of professional backgrounds in mind - from junior officers to experienced board directors.

Community identity, inclusion and connection

Meena Singh, Victorian Commissioner for Aboriginal Children and Young People, will join our conference line up to discuss our role in protecting vulnerable communities.

Meena is a Yorta Yorta and Indian woman, born and living on the land of the Kulin Nations. She combines her lived experience with professional expertise and is passionate about understanding individual and community identity and achieving social justice.

Spotlight on local

Our Trade Show during morning tea and lunch on Thursday 18 May will bring delegates an array of good vibes – the Mornington Peninsula kind.

We're proud to bring you a variety of delights from some fantastic Peninsula businesses. Guests can view, sample and of course purchase local products, including beer, wine, health foods, condiments, fresh produce and confectionary. It's the perfect opportunity to stock up on gifts – or pick out something special for yourself!

See you there!
