

AUSTRALIAN LOCAL GOVERNMENT WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION

ALGWA Vic will be supporting women through the October election and beyond with our online forums...

ALGWA Vic is so excited to continue our series of online forums.

Our VAGO sessions were a great success. Do make sure you look out for that email from VAGO as it hits your inbox in the coming weeks to participating councils and all councillors in Victoria.

As we become accustomed to a new way of life, online forums are definitely here to stay. A few things will always remain the same, the morning coffee, lunchtime and happy hour.

So, to make it all work, we have 30 min coffee break sessions, lunch and learn events and happy hour networking, something to fit into everyone's schedule and lifestyle.

What's planned for June?

This coming Monday June 1st @12 pm join Ross Monaghan and ALGWA Vic as we discuss "How do you want to be perceived on social media as a Councillor?"

Have Lunch with Ross this Monday 12-1 pm

Ross is an award-winning communication academic at Deakin University.

He started his career as a journalist before completing his first degree and working for BHP and Optus. He later became the Chief Executive Officer of the Australian Mobile Telecommunications Association, representing that sector during the introduction of the mobile internet.

Ross regularly conducts communication and social media workshops for the Municipal Association of Victoria. His social media workshop was amongst the most popular at the 2019 MAV Councillor development weekend.

Ross will also be running a special lunch and learn Friday 12th June 12-1 pm
